

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a control device (5), controlling a machine tool (1), which processes a step sequence (S1-S11), by a wireless reading of a partial programme (18) from a workpiece data support (15), provided for a workpiece (3) and processing the workpiece (3), following the downloaded partial programme (18).